

The Jewish Hospice & Chaplaincy Network

PRIVACY POLICY

We will not sell, share, or trade the names or personal information of our donors with any other entity, nor send mailings or other solicitations to our donors on behalf of other organizations.

This policy applies to all information received by The Jewish Hospice & Chaplaincy Network including electronic, online, written, and oral communications. To the extent any donations are processed through a third-party service provider, donors' information will be used only for purposes necessary to process the donation.
